SINCLAIR TO FIGHT NAVAL OIL LEASE ANNULMENT SUIT

Lessee Of Teapot Dome In Cheyenne To Oppose
Federal Action.

WELCOME CHANCE TO OFFER DEFENSE

Oil Magnate Has No Fear
Of Outcome Of Case,
He Asserts.

Cheyenne, Wyo., March 12.—"We will fight it from hell to breakfast," this from the crisp expression to-day from Harry F. Sinclair, millionaire oil magnate, when questioned regarding his attitude toward the government annulment suit that will be filed here tomorrow against the Mammoth Oil Co. lessee of the Teapot Dome naval reserves near Casper, Wyo.

Sinclair arrived here with an imposing array of counsel, including Martin W. Littleton of New York, and Col. J. W. Zeveloff, Sinclair's personal legal representative.

The oil operator's legal talent will contest with all the power at its command the injunction and annulment suits planned to be filed in federal court here tomorrow by Attorney General Clegg and Owen J. Roberts, special counsel appointed by President Coolidge to recover the naval oil leases which it is alleged were secured through fraud and corruption, when they were leased to Sinclair by former Secretary of the Interior Albert B. Fall.

"Our lease is valid in every particular and we will defend it against any and all attacks," Sinclair said. "I am glad this matter is to have a hearing in open court where both sides can be heard and where every American citizen has an equal chance. It is one thing to voice charges on the floor of the United States senate but quite another thing to sustain them in a court of law."

No Fear Of Outcome

Sinclair declared that he had been a victim of unjust attacks for two years, and welcomed the opportunity now presented to offer a defense. He said he had no fear whatever of the outcome of the court proceedings.

Sinclair reverted to his favorite hobby—the race track—when asked what the nature of his defense against the pending court action, declaring:

"When a man is interested in race horses his trainers decide the course of action; when a man is in court his attorneys determine what is to be done."

Sinclair said he had no knowledge of any removal of extensive equipment from the Teapot Dome structure by the Mammoth Oil Co., the Sinclair Teapot Leasing company. He indicated his company intended to continue development work on oil production under the lease granted in 1922.

Attorney General Clegg and Owen J. Roberts, attorneys for the government, will reach Cheyenne this afternoon and are expected to at once file their pleadings with the clerk of the federal district court.

WACK PAYS $1,000 ON BOOZE CHARGE

North Georgetown Farmer
Fined On Two Charges

Wack was arrested after Detective Bryn and Fireman Groner and McIlvane raided his home last Saturday and found a big supply of hootch and a complete manufacturing outfit.

Railroad men for a short time today believed George had come to the end of his string, when they saw him drop suddenly from view in front of a locomotive.

George was caught unawares in the path of a coal train. After it had passed over him, George arose unharmed. He went about his duties as though nothing had happened.

SAFETY DIRECTOR TRAPPED IN NET SET FOR OTHERS

Police Play No Favorites,
Nab Safer For Parking
Rule Violation.

Over a week ago Safety Director C. W. Zimmerman issued orders for a drastic war on all traffic violators. There were none to be shown mercy, and orders went out to tag every machine violating the ordinance with an order to appear before the mayor.

On Tuesday Officer Jesse Gray had his keen eyes focused on a touring car which was violating the ordinance. He immediately tagged it. The car bore the number 654,838 and he developed that this was the safer's own car.

As yet there has been no entry on the mayor's docket of the appearance of the safety director who it appears has been caught in the net he helped to spread. His officers take no note of the owners of the cars so that no favoritism is shown.

There are 17 ordinance's numbered on the sticker that is placed on each car ordering the driver to appear for a hearing. The number checked on Safer Zimmerman's car is No. 8, that of "not parking four feet from either end of any other vehicle."

A car belonging to the John Pascola Coal Co. bearing license No. 166,127 was also tagged Tuesday but the driver has failed to appear.

Monday these cars were tagged and the owners have not complied with the orders: No. 769,768, Eldon Voneman, and No. 165,826, Dr. R. D. Linn. On March 4, W. C. Bennett, No. 654,896, was ordered to appear but he had not yet seen the mayor.

Daugherty in the attorney general's own apartment here, is going to be investigated by the Brookhart-Wheeler committee in its general inquiry into Daugherty's administration of the department of justice it developed today.

The committee issued subpoenas for the Western Union and Postal Telegraph managers here and at Washington Court House, Ohio, today with instructions to bring all of Smith's messages from Nov. 1, 1920, to Smith's death, March 29, 1923.

This report was given to police yesterday by several witnesses. They state that the woman deliberately backed her car from its parking place into the procession, and then tried to turn around in the street which delayed the cortege still more.

Anyone caught interfering with any procession will be jailed in the future, according to police.

COOLIDGE URGES PASSAGE OF BILL BEFORE MARCH 15

Leaders Claim Demand Has
Embarrassed Them, No
Action Possible.

INSURGENT GROUP DELAYS MEASURE

President Resents Failure
Of Congress To Act
On Messages.

Washington, March 12.—A definite split developed today between President Coolidge and the leaders of his party in congress.

The president has demanded that the Republican leadership wield the whip and drive through congress in four days a separate resolution permitting a reduction of 25 per cent on the income tax returns.

Harassed at every turn by the coalition of the Democrats and insurgents, the Republican leadership has bluntly told the White House that such a thing is impossible and that no effort will be made to carry out the president's wishes in this respect.

This was the situation today, with the next move, apparently up to the White House.

The Republican leaders are worried and somewhat resentful, claiming that the president asked them to "do the impossible" and thus put them in an awkward and embarrassing position before the country.

The White House, smarting under a succession of reverses experienced this session, also appeared somewhat resentful. It was pointed out that although the sixty-eighth congress has been in session more than three months, not one of the recommendations made by the president in his first message has been enacted into law.

Impossible, Say Leaders.

"It is absolutely impossible to pass this reduction resolution before Saturday without unanimous consent," said Representative Green, Republican of Iowa, chairman of the powerful ways and means committee, "and everybody knows that unanimous consent is impossible. There is active and violent opposition to this measure."

Representative Longworth, of Ohio, the Republican leader, agreed with Green, as did other of the Republican leaders.

Representative Garner, Democrat of Texas, announced flatly he was opposed to it and he carries almost the solid Democratic strength.

The coalition of Democrats and in-

An effort will be made to get Capt. Gieb of the National Red Cross at Washington, who was in this city for a day last year and gave a demonstration at the fire department.

Police Chief O. E. Corbett and his men tapped the sewer outside the home, placing a co-tainter beneath the opening.

When they entered the house, something was dumped into the sink. They waited until the container had received the contents of the sink, then arrested Williams on a charge of violating prohibition laws.

SEVEN APPLICANTS FOR POSTMASTER OF SALEM OFFICE

Postmaster George Mounts
Seeks Re-appointment
To Second Term.

Seven citizens of Salem have filed applications for the position of postmaster of Salem for the new term starting May 10 when the present term of Postmaster George H. Mounts expires.

Postmaster Mounts was among the seven who filed their papers up to closing time yesterday. No more applications will be received. The others are:

Frank J. Eckstein, J. H. Campbell, C. B. Moore, Lester B. Carson, Harold Babb and O. C. Hoover.

The applications were received from the local civil service commission secretary W. P. Davis. All candidates will be investigated by a special inspecting committee from Washington, and the eligible ones will have their names forwarded to President Coolidge for appointment.

Postmaster Mounts, whose service in the local postoffice has extended over 25 years, is completing his first term as postmaster, having been deputy postmaster previous to his appointment four years ago. He is seeking another term on the strength of his record in office and of his service, expecting to retire from the service at the end of his next term, if he is reappointed.

DESCRIBES MAIN STREET BEFORE CIVIL WAR DAYS

Much of interest concerning the early history of Salem up until the Civil war was brought out in a program on "Old Salem," presented at a meeting of the Travelers Club Tuesday afternoon. It was in charge of Mrs. A. G. Youngling, Mrs. Harry Young and Miss Helen Greiner.

The main feature was a talk by Dr. A. C. Youngling who described to the Travelers Club as he remembered it before the civil conflict, beginning on McKinley ave., about where the Masonic temple is located and coming into the city, noting the changes made.

A well prepared paper on "The Birth of Salem" was offered by Mrs. Harry Young. Mrs. C. W. Leland sang two pleasing solos, and Miss Grace P. Orr led the members in singing "Long, Long Ago" and "Auld Lang Syne."

At roll call each member responded by giving some item about old Salem. The members will meet again in one week.

GET YOURSELF A GIRL, CUT OUT GANG, BOY'S ADVICE

New York, March 12.—"Get yourself a good girl and stick to her, and cut out the gang," this was the advice to modern youth voiced by Walfrid Lillback, 18, minister's son, from his cell in a Brooklyn jail today.

"If I had stuck to my girl and not my gang I wouldn't be here," remarked Lillback, who is the son of Rev. J. J. Lillback, pastor of the Finnish Colgatha Congregational church. "I am guilty of robbery, alright," the youth said.

"If there is anything I can tell parents it is to keep their boys from running around with a 'bunch.' A boy, by himself, never thinks of doing wrong. It's when the 'bunch' gets together they plot things. Collective courage will carry a boy on to crime."

RELATIONS WITH FALL PERSONAL, SAYS PUBLISHER

APPEARS BEFORE COMMITTEE TODAY

Cross Examination Follows
Reading Of Lengthy Statement.

Washington, March 12.—The story of the famous $100,000 loan, supposed to have been made by E. B. McLean, wealthy Washington publisher, to Albert B. Fall at the time the senate oil investigators were trying to find out where Fall and McLean City, it was revealed today by McLean himself during a severe cross-examination at the hands of the senate committee.

McLean said he had gone to Atlantic City to see Fall at Mrs. Fall's request. Fall was a sick man, he said.

"He said to me," testified McLean, "Ned, do you remember our check transaction two or three years ago? Do you mind saying that you would loan me $100,000 in cash? Will you do this for me? I'm in an embarrassing position. Some of my enemies are trying to make it bad for me."

Made Loan To Fall

"He assured me," McLean went on, "that it had nothing to do with Harry F. Sinclair or Teapot Dome."

"As a result I said 'yes, I will.' Subsequently McLean said he sent the committee a telegram saying he had lent Fall $100,000."

"I believe it had nothing to do with Sinclair or Teapot Dome," said McLean. "Fall told me 'they (the committee) are barking up the wrong tree.'"

McLean declared he did not know either Doheny or Sinclair and that his relations with Fall were "purely personal."

The only oil stocks he ever dealt in were those of the Pure Oil Co., in which he made a profit of $5,500.

Before undergoing his examination at the hands of the committee, McLean made a formal statement covering his interests in the famous case, which follows:

McLean's Statement

"My attention has been called to the fact that the authority of this committee in conducting this investigation is based on senate resolution No. 282 as amended by senate resolution No. 294, both of which were adopted during the last session of congress."

"In substance this committee is authorized to conduct an investigation of the entire subject of leases upon naval oil reserves. Nothing that is not connected with the leases by the United States government to individual persons or corporations of lands included within the government naval oil reserves is pertinent or relevant to your investigation. I am advised that the proposition cannot be successfully or truthfully questioned."

"Having in mind, therefore, the subject of this investigation and having also in mind the widespread use

Won By Hard Work

IN the death of Alfred H. Smith, president of the New York Central Railway system, the railroad world loses one of its most interesting and outstanding figures. Starting as a messenger boy in the storekeeper's office of the Lake Shore in Cleveland, he climbed to the top of the ladder, winning each promotion by hard work and complete mastery of the position held. No other president of the New York Central ever met more important or more puzzling problems than came to him, and no other man in that important position ever gave a larger or more constructive service. He was distinctly a builder, always looking to the future, planning for the coming tasks, strengthening the organization, increasing the equipment and facilities of the system. Not since the New York Central system was organized has it been in better shape than now. It is a monument to the genius and leadership of Al Smith.

Like many other men, he quit school when a boy to go to work because his earnings were needed. Lacking the training that would have been received had he completed his school work, he won a notable success by hard work, enthusiastic application, high courage and determination to win. Among his many talents not the least was his ability to enthuse men about him and secure the best results. He was distinctly a leader of men. Along the Lake Shore lines, where he had spent the early years of his service, he was known as Al Smith. Promotion did not change his genial spirit. He preferred to be Al Smith when he was with his oldtime associates. To him they were Bob, Jim and Bill as in other days. He has a fine mixer, a strict disciplinarian, a believer in hard work, and he had no patience with a loafer or idler.

That genius made it possible for him to put the New York Central in its present condition after the period of operation under government control, a period that disarranged all the oldtime spirit that had been developed. He knew he had a tremendous task, but he was determined to win, and he did just as he had won in other places on other tasks. His career was unusual, his record reads like a romance. He had no plan for success save that of hard work and patient, persistent application.

Maple Sugar

THERE are about 2,000,000 maple trees in the sugar camps in the state that will be ready for tapping when the time comes for the annual spring harvest of maple sweets, and some of the trees are tapped now. There is a growing demand for the products that come from these camps. Prices are far above those quoted in former years, but the public does not realize it. The increased price of the product is a few years ago Georgia county, N.C., where maple county of the state, supplied wonderful maple sugar at 15 cents per pound and sent out maple syrup that was perfectly wonderful and asked only $1 per gallon. But those prices belong to the dear old days that are gone and will not return. Prices have more than doubled in most places and the camp owners, where the best is made, have no trouble whatever in finding willing buyers, those who come year after year, ordering their supplies for the coming year as they get their store each spring.

As in the case in many other departments of farm work, there is not a single easy task about making maple syrup and maple sugar, except in finding buyers. It is no fun to do the work required to put the camp in order during the late winter days. Gathering the sap when the flow is on is just plain hard work and plenty of it each day during the season. There is no demand for a loafer about the evaporators when the sweets are being manufactured. It is a steady job, taking all the attention of the man or woman on the job and the amount of loading may spoil the result of much hard work already done. The snow, and mud and raw winds with which to contend, and the man who puts in a day of work in a sugar camp has earned a night of peaceful repose and rest. He has a right to sell his product at a price that will give him a fair return for the hard work he has done. And the man who puts out good syrup and real tree sugar will find his customers willing to pay him that price, particularly after they have learned the high quality of his products.

20 YEARS AGO

(Issue of March 12, 1916.)

Dr. H. W. Thompson went to Pittsburgh this morning taking with him a patent from Alliance to have an X-ray taken of his eye.

The lightest vote for several years was cast yesterday at the Republican primaries in this city. Dr. Edith J. Thomas received 161 votes for the school board but not enough to win.

Within four years the United States navy will be the strongest in the world.

The robins and blue birds are receiving a cool reception.

Charles W. Street and family, 225 North Ave., will leave March 22 for Portland, Ore., where they will locate.

A large flock of wild geese passed over the eastern half of the city this morning, indicating that spring is near at hand. A fall of the beautiful morning is to the contrary notwithstanding.

An additional city carrier has been granted the Alliance postoffice by the department at Washington.

The ladders belonging to the hook and ladder wagon are being repaired which will add to the appearance of the outfit.

George H. Gilbert, 63 of Washington, died Monday morning of paralysis.

W. W. Milford and two sons returned to Pittsburgh this morning after visiting Salem relatives.

Charles Bonnell, who is employed as a bookkeeper in East Palestine, spent Sunday here.

Blast Was Silent One

The street was crowded with traffic; the sidewalks filled with children returning from school; and a contracting company was busy digging foundations for a new apartment house, says the New York Sun and Globe. Suddenly the drills ceased their noisy work. Laborers and diggers dispersed at a shout of command. Six with red flags shoofed away pedestrians, stopped impatient traffic with high pitched commands and then took up posts of warning. A blast was about to be set off.

Silence settled over the place and interest and excitement ran high. It was going to be a big blast. The operator—whose duty it was to fire the charge—approached the detonator and waited the signal of the foreman. It came—a sharp command in Italian. The operator depressed the detonator. Every one waited, some with fingers to their ears. But nothing happened. Again he tried. There was no explosion. A titter among the crowd of watchers was followed by shouts of laughter as examination of the wires leading from the detonator to the charge of dynamite showed they had not been attached.

National Forests Are Managed With Wisdom

At the present time the national forests are harvesting about 2 per cent of the lumber used in this country. Yet they are producing roughly 10 per cent of the annual effective timber growth. This is a very much faster way of saying that on the national forests timber is being grown more rapidly than it is being harvested, while in practically all other forest areas it is being produced more slowly than it is being harvested, says Frank A. Waugh in the North American Review.

That portion of the forest timber which is being harvested is sold on the stump to contractors, who cut it, under careful regulations, and manufacture it into lumber and other commodities. Sales are made to the highest bidder and the money received is deposited in the United States treasury. These sales now produce a revenue of about $2,000,000 a year.

This does not seem a very large amount when compared with the enormous sums paid for lumber by ultimate consumers, but in this field more than in most others the cost of manufacture, transportation and selling are many times as great as the initial cost of production, and that even though it may take one hundred years to grow a tree and only a day to cut it down. For the sake, therefore, of shifting this comparison to more familiar grounds, we may say that the present timber cut of the national forests averages about 800,000,000 board feet, worth about $20,000,000 in its final markets.

Marion Burr Raleigh, 62, will be the Masonic fraternity here about a three-quarter acre plot of ground for a Masonic memorial building, together with the bulk of his estate estimated at between $250,000 and $300,000.

Great Oil Shale Bed Is Found in England

What is claimed to be one of the greatest and richest oil-bearing shale beds ever discovered has been found in West Somerset, according to the Evening Star, says a London dispatch to the New York Times.

The bed, covering a large area, is said to have been a mining surface of 600 to 700 feet, which the experts here say is unprecedented. The beds, it is declared, contain the highest qualities of oils, compared only with the hitherto an unparalleled example of oil-shale wealth.

The news item quotes Lorette Larkin, an English engineer, as reporting that it was safe to base the commercial exploitation of the beds at 50,000,000 tons of oil shale with an oil content of more than 1,000,000,000 tons, valued at $10,000,000,000. He estimated the shale could be quarried for three shillings per ton.

It also quotes Dr. W. Forbes Leslie, geologist, as saying the beds were a source of power from which we could draw for our industries without spending money on foreign oil. The magnitude of this discovery means that we can supply all our needs for cheap power, light and heat for centuries. He claims the beds will make England independent of foreign supplies in time of war.

ADVISES TEACHERS TO SELL STUDIES

State Leader Also Urges
Public Be Informed Of Work Done.

With 80 members present, the meeting of the Columbiana County Schoolmasters' club Tuesday night, in the Y. M. C. A. at East Liverpool broke all attendance records in the history of the organization.

Superintendents, principals and high school teachers were present from East Liverpool, Chester, Newell, Lisbon, Leetonia, Salem, Columbiana and East Liverpool.

In an address, "Selling the Schools," W. E. Kerschner, secretary of the State Teachers' system, urged teachers and school executives to treat schools as a merchant treats his store and his merchandise. "Sell the studies to the students, instead of trying to force knowledge upon them," he advised.

According to Kerschner, propaganda explaining the purpose and usefulness of schools to civilization and the community should become more widespread. "You can't expect the public to appreciate what you are trying to do unless you tell about it," he stated.

Harlan E. Hall, instructor in the East Liverpool high school, and Mrs. Margaret E. Barnett, Martin's Ferry, were the other speakers on the program. Hall talked on the "Human Side of the Teacher" while the Martin's Ferry teacher talked on "When Is an Examination Not an Examination?"

NEWS IN BRIEF

Alliance—Hugh Blakely, believed to be the oldest man in Alliance, celebrated his 93rd birthday last Sunday. He fathered the New York Central and first electric system in eastern Ohio.

Cleveland—At the Cleveland Museum of Art the professor of anatomy assisted by others removed 21 layers of bandages and padding from the mummy of Senbi, "scribe of the king," which was laid to rest in his coffin some 4,000 years ago.

Canton—While workmen were removing a steam shovel from the excavation for the new Stern and Mann store, a section of sidewalk pavement, curbstones and earth was loosened by vibration and caved in. No one was injured.

California Utopia Has Turned Out a Failure

Dreams of another Utopia were shattered recently when the majority of stockholders of the Santa Barbara Fellowship Colony filed a petition for dissolution of their corporation in the Superior court in Santa Barbara.

The colony was organized June 9, 1921, as a nonprofit corporation to purchase homes and the necessities of life on a co-operative basis.

Socialists and other "radicals," together with a number of more conservative citizens, purchased land with the intent of building a colony "conceding freedom of opinion" but "to encourage the spirit of good will and mutual service at all times," says the Los Angeles Times.

The petitioners give the following reasons for dissolution:

"The objects for which said corporation was organized have not been fulfilled.

"There appears to be no possibility of accomplishing the ideals and purposes of incorporation.

"It is essential that the debts of the corporation be paid and this is possible only by liquidation of assets."

The colony purchased a large tract of land on Lamesa in the city limits of Santa Barbara and to date not more than ten houses or shacks have been erected.

TANLAC SAVED MY LIFE SAYS MRS. HARRISON

Stomach Trouble Of 5
Years Standing Is Overcome—Nervousness All Gone Too.

Whatever else we may have in this world in order to be happy and contented we must have health. Mrs. Emily Harrison of 208 Magnolia at Cincinnati, declares the famous Tanlac treatment has restored to her.

"If I should tell all Tanlac has meant to me," says Mrs. Harrison, "a whole writing tablet would not contain it. My husband says it saved my life and no doubt he is right, for my case had been given up as hopeless. "Early last year I broke almost completely down as a result of five years suffering from stomach trouble and nervousness. My condition had me feeling downcast and discouraged and I wasn't getting any pleasure out of life.

"I want it published broadcast that Tanlac is what saved me from my troubles. Life is a pleasure to me now for my health is splendid and I am feeling fine. Tanlac will have my life-long praise."

Tanlac is for sale by all good druggists. Accept no substitute. Over 40 million bottles sold.

TWO PERISH, 150 ARE DRIVEN INTO STREET BY FIRE

New York, March 12.—Stephen Kluback and his wife, Anna, are dead while their two sons, John, 8, and Benjamin, 5, are in a critical condition, the result of a fire which early today swept their apartment in a five story lower East Side dwelling.

Police are seeking a man thought to have started the blaze as a means of revenge against Kluback.

Oil had been poured over the steps leading to the apartment, as well as over the Kluback door.

More than 150 persons, residents in the house, were driven out to the wind and rain-swept streets by the blaze.

Fire Marshal John Brophy was told by neighbors of Kluback that a man, known to have been Kluback's enemy, threatened his life last week.

"I'm going to kill Steve," I've got to do it for he shattered my future," Brophy quoted this man as saying.

Lisbon-Liverpool Road To Be Closed

There will be no bus operated between East Liverpool and Lisbon during the coming summer while that section of the Lincoln Highway in St. Clair township is being improved and widened.

With the East Liverpool-Wellsville rd. closed to traffic because of resurfacing, traffic over that highway will also be suspended.

The Youngstown & Ohio River railroad company is now considering a plan to operate a special car between Stop 33 and East Liverpool while the Lincoln Highway is closed at that point to meet the bus operating between Salem and East Liverpool.

More Corn In Cribbs Than One Year Ago

Columbus, March 12.—There is 10 per cent more corn in the cribbs of Ohio farmers now than a year ago, officials of the state federal crop reporting service declared today. The increase is general over the United States, it was stated.

Approximately 32 per cent of last year's hay is still on the farms in Ohio, the officials said.

School Teacher's Friends Made Glad

One of them had this to say yesterday. "We never thought that poor Ellen would ever recover, she had suffered so long from stomach and liver trouble and had lost more than 40 pounds in weight. She took a bottle of May's Wonderful Remedy upon the advice of her aunt and has steadily improved from the first dose. We are all confident of her complete recovery." It removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract, and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. One dose will convince or money refunded at all druggists.

HATRED FIGURES IN MURDER CASE

Mansfield, March 12.—The burden of the testimony of the state, so far in the trial of Willard Pettit, farmer, charged with second degree murder in the shooting of his brother-in-law, John Payne, the day after last Christmas, was the alleged hatred of Willard Pettit for his brother-in-law because the latter had control of his child, Bertha, aged 11.

Neighbors and acquaintances testified they had heard Willard Pettit threaten at different times to "get" Payne. Mrs. Amy Payne, widow of John Payne and sister of Willard Pettit, admitted on cross examination that her husband had made statements against Willard Pettit in the presence of the child.

She admitted further there had been trouble at the Huron Valley farm on different occasions when her brother had come there after his child.

PRETTY DIVORCEE HELD FOR MURDER OF HER COMPANION

Chicago Man's Body Found In Woman's Car, Bullet Through His Head.

Chicago, March 12.—Death was a sudden visitor at a party for two shortly before dawn today and Mrs. Belle Gaertner, pretty divorcee was held while police sought to learn how Walter Law, 35, her companion, was killed.

His body, a bullet through his head, was found in Mrs. Gaertner's sedan in the street where the woman lives. She was arrested in her home.

Mrs. Gaertner is the divorced wife of William Gaertner, prominent manufacturer of scientific instruments, who was her second husband. Law was an automobile salesman and met the woman through his sale to her of the car in which he met his death. Police at the Wabash station, where she was taken for questioning, said she admitted she had been drinking. In the bottom of the car was found an empty gin bottle and Mrs. Gaertner's pistol, which she said she had given Law "for protection." It had exploded.

"We were on our way home when this thing happened. I don't know how," she told police. "Walter was driving and all of a sudden he dropped forward over the wheel as I heard a shot."

"He was bleeding and I tried to stop the flow of blood. That's how my clothes came to be stained."

"Then he was still and I was scared. The car had stopped in the middle of the street. I got out and went home."

Police found the emergency brakes of the car set. There was no bullet hole in the windshield or windows of the car.

RELATIONS WITH FALL

In the public press of my name as one who might have had some connection with the naval oil leases, or with the companies, individuals, government departments or public officials who did have connection with the leases of the naval oil reserves, I want to make now the following detailed and emphatic statement of fact:

"I have absolutely no knowledge regarding any leases upon naval oil reserves made at any time to any person or any company except such knowledge as I in common with all the rest of the American public, have received from newspaper reports."

"As to the so-called Sinclair leases and companies:

"I have never known anything about any lease of any oil lands to the Sinclair company and know nothing about this except what I have read in the newspapers. I do not know Harry F. Sinclair and have no recollection of ever having met him even in a casual way."

"I have never had any interest of any kind directly or indirectly for myself, or any other person, in any of the so-called companies. I did not even know that there was such a thing as the Mammoth Oil Company until I saw it mentioned in the press reports in connection with this investigation."

"I do know as anyone who reads newspapers would have known, that there was a company known as Sinclair Consolidated Oil Co., but I have never owned or had any interest in a single share of the stocks of that company or any company in any way connected with it."

"In a word I had no knowledge of or connection with Mr. Sinclair's oil leases or his companies or his business or his transactions."

"I do not know Edward L. Doheny, and so far as I am aware I have never seen him in my life. I did not know that he had any connection with any leases upon naval oil reserves until I read of them in the newspapers."

"I do not know the names of Mr. Doheny's companies but I am informed that he is president of the Mexican Petroleum Co., and the Pan American Petroleum Co., and that these companies, like most large oil companies, have branches."

"Denies Owning Stock

"I have never owned, directly or indirectly for myself or in connection with any other person, whatever a single share of stock in the Mexican Petroleum Co., the Pan-American Petroleum Co., or any of their dependent companies, or so far as I know any company that Mr. Doheny has any interest in connection with."

"I know nothing about the contract or leases between the government and the Doheny companies."

"Again in brief, I have had no connection with, interest in, or transactions with Edward L. Doheny or any company or business of his at any time in my life."

"Former Secretary of the Interior Albert B. Fall has for several years been a personal friend of mine. My relationship with him have, however, never at any time had any official transactions with the interior department of the United States government."

"As regards the navy department and Secretary Denby I can say the same as I have already said about the interior department. My personal acquaintance with Secretary Denby has been a very slight one. I have had no business relations whatever with the navy department. The newspapers which I am connected with may have carried some government advertising but of course it will be recognized that this is a matter not handled by me personally."

Stock Transactions

"Because there have been published indefinite and unfounded rumors from which the inference might be drawn that I had participated in the purchase of oil stocks I desire to tell you just what stock transactions I have had. Only twice in my life have I bought New York stock exchange stocks and here are the facts about these two transactions:

"In November 1922 I bought 12,000 shares of pure oil stock through Hibbs & Co., Washington, D. C. I sold this stock February 1923, through Hutton & Co., Palm Beach, Fla. at a profit of about $55,000. This profit was entirely mine. My understanding is that the Pure Oil company is a company that has never had any connection with any government leases and is in no wise concerned in this investigation."

"In March 1923, I bought 2,000 shares of Bethlehem Steel through Hutton & Co., Palm Beach, Fla. I sold it through Hibbs & Co., in December 1923, at a loss of approximately $30,000. This loss was entirely mine."

"This is the entire story of any New York stock exchange stocks ever purchased or sold by me."

"I have never been interested in the purchase of any Sinclair or Doheny oil stocks, directly or indirectly."

What Telegrams Reveal

"The press has repeatedly carried reports that an important witness was negotiating for immunity from prosecution in consideration of the disclosure by him of sensational facts. The press reports have too clearly indicated that I was that important witness for me not to be sensible to that imputation."

The facts are:

"First—I have no knowledge of any such facts and therefore could not disclose any to this committee or to any senator or any other committee or person whatever."

"Second—I have no need for any immunity of any kind and I have neither asked for it nor authorized any persons to do so."

"The only consideration I have sought is that which would excuse me from appearing as a witness stand."

"You have examined with considerable fullness telegraphic correspondence between my employees, my counsel, several of my friends and myself. I believe you will agree that those telegrams may be divided into three classes:

"First—Those that brought me information on.

"Second—Those that show my desire to avoid appearing as a witness."

"Third—Those that relate to my personal and business affairs."

"Certainly none of them indicate that I had any connection with the oil leases which you are investigating and none of them could so indicate."

SUGAR REFINING PROFITS LARGE

New York, March 12.—Profits of $8,508,163 were earned in 1923 by the American Sugar Refining Co., according to the annual report of the company made public today.

Of this sum the report states $5,552,487 was income from investments in sugar producing companies and $2,955,675 income from interest earned. The company lost $1,639,970 on its refining operations during the year but after paying dividends, bond interest and providing for depreciation, ended the year with a surplus of $865,107.

STOCKS

STRENGTH IN RAILS.

New York, March 12.—Strength in Norfolk and Western and Southern Railway featured an otherwise dull opening of the stocks market today.

Norfolk advanced one point to 120 1/2 and Southern railway 3/4 to 50 3/4. Other carriers stocks were steady.

U. S. Steel yielded 1/4 to 102 1/2, while Crucible rose 1/2 to 62 1/2. Oils were somewhat irregular. Pacific Oil advancing 1/4 to 52 1/2, and Standard Oil of California 3/4 to 62 1/2, but Pan-American lost 1/4 to 49 3/4; Texas company 1/4 to 42 1/2 and Phillips petroleum 1/4 to 40 1/2.

Steadiness characterized trading in the forenoon session. Renewal of buying of railroad shares, especially the medium and low priced ones, was the outstanding feature. Southern railway rose 2 points to 52 1/2, and Norfolk and Western above 121, up about 2 points, both issues showing new highs. Erie rose over one point to 25 1/2. Northern Pacific, however, lost one point to 52. Oils were firm.

BONUS GETS AID FROM OPPONENTS

THEIR STUPIDITY LIKELY TO RESULT IN THE PASSAGE OF THE MEASURE.

By EDWARD B. CLARK

Washington—Those members of house and senate who were not for the bonus at heart, but who originally intended to vote for the measure for political reasons, came to the conclusion some time ago that the country would be safe in withholding from it their support. Now, some of these members have been forced back to their first position, and the forcing, curiously enough, has been done by opponents of the whole bonus scheme in all its aspects.

Veterans of the World war today are looking forward to a bonus victory instead of a defeat, a victory made possible by the action of the enemy. Men in Washington who are conscientiously opposed to bonus legislation are wondering why it is that the propagandists in opposition to the legislation had so little sense when they outlined their campaign.

Many of the American legionnaires in Washington who, yesterday, did not want the bonus bill to become a law, today are in favor of its passage. The ranks of the veterans are being solidified behind a cause to which only recently many of them were opposed. The instant that it was made to appear that coercive methods were being used to defeat the legislation in congress, bonus opponents flocked to the standard of its proponents. It is regarded as even possible that because of some of the methods which have been disclosed in promoting the anti-bonus legislation, President Coolidge may change his attitude in the matter.

Opponents Kill Their Cause.

"Leave it to the enemy" is not a rule of either strategy or tactics, but in this case "Leave it to the enemy" may prove to have been all sufficient.

It is held that if the Garner revenue act, even in a form somewhat compromised, shall become the law of the land, it will be more difficult to pay the bonus than ever, but even with a deficit instead of a surplus in the revenues facing the country, the chances now seem to be that the bonus bill will be enacted, and then let what may happen, happen.

In an old melodrama which, as memory has it, was called "Youth," there was a line not altogether snappy, but nevertheless truthful. It was to the effect that the man who talks too much is a fool, and that the man who writes anything is an idiot.

Letters, seemingly have proved the undoing of the cause of those men who, for patriotic or other reasons, have opposed bonus legislation. How a manager of any great corporation could have thought for a minute that he could write letters to his employees charging them in turn to write letters to their congressmen in opposition to the bonus, and hoping that the fact of the writing would not become known, passes understanding, or at any rate the understanding of Washington where letter writers have met their fate on many an occasion.

Quinn Changed the Situation.

It may be, as a good many men here seem to think, that bonus legislation will keep taxes up and do a lot of other things unpleasant to the peace of mind of the average American citizen. There is a wonder here, however, how some corporation chiefs ever succeeded in business when they have shown so little sense in handling this particular matter.

When John E. Quinn, the national commander of the American Legion, was in Washington a day or two ago, he disclosed things of which he had written proof, which changed the whole bonus legislative situation within the time that it took him publicly to read the letters.

It is only a coincidence, probably, that two or three of the group which seemingly have been active in anti-bonus activities are of the so-called Mellon interests. Doubtless the secretary of the treasury knew nothing about the activities of some of the companies in which he formerly was interested, but the fact that these concerns were in a part at least of the so-called Mellon group of industries, has helped to damage the anti-bonus cause.

In view of what has happened recently this would seem to be an exceedingly bad time to bring to bear in the field of legislation influence from sources which in the present state of the public mind, rightly or wrongly, are regarded with suspicion.

Filed for Reference

"Was Jack heartbroken when you filed him?"
"I should say not. He was perfectly horrid."
"What did he do?"
"When I gave back the ring he took a little file out of his pocket and made a notch on the inside."
"What was horrid about that?"
"There were five notches in it already."—Lampoon.

SARETT, RANGER AND GUIDE, WILL SPEAK IN SALEM

In a recent issue of the Saturday Evening Post, Hal G. Everts, in his "Timber-line Trails" series, devoted considerable space to Low Sarett, "the poet of the wilderness," who is to appear on the Methodist hymn course tonight.

The writer refers to Sarett as a guide in the Canadian Rockies, editor of Poetry Magazine, a ranger in the Yellowstone and a professor in an eastern university.

"Sarett," stated Everts "gave us lessons in botany as we rode along, but finding us sadly deficient in scientific nomenclature, he confined himself to such elementary topics as how to distinguish the birds from the flowers, and other simple exercises for the novice. After that we addressed the blooms by their first names and really began to feel acquainted with a number of the more common and informal varieties."

Sarett, a graduate of the University of Michigan, recently was awarded the coveted Levinson prize for producing "The Box of God," adjudged the best work of poetry written during the year.

And do not make the mistake of picturing Low Sarett as a long-haired, sallow-faced and anemic type of man, for he is decidedly the opposite. For the past few years he has devoted his summers to working as a United States ranger in the Rockies.

There are about 170,000 men and women in the prisons in the United States.

BRINGING UP FATHER

COUNTY MEDICS HEAR PAPER BY CANTON DOCTOR

At a meeting of the Columbiana County Medical Society, held in the parlors of the Lisbon Presbyterian church Tuesday, it was disclosed that the 15 registered physicians now located in this county can cover more ground and render service to a greater number of people than double this number of physicians could years ago.

"Good roads, interurban cars and the automobile have caused this change," said Dr. T. T. Church, of Salem. "And the more good roads we have the wider area we can cover and with greater speed."

Dr. Harry P. Pomeroy, of Canton, a brother of former United States Senator Allice Pomeroy, presented a paper at this monthly meeting of the medical society. Following a discussion of the paper, dinner was served the visiting physicians by the women of the Fellowship circle of this church.

Swift Action Urged For 1924 Corn Crop

By acting at once to locate sound seed corn, Ohio farmers can fill their needs for 1924 and so avert what happened in the spring of 1918.

A rapid state-wide survey, just completed by farm crop specialists at the Ohio State university, Smith-Hughes instructors and county agents, gives rise to this statement. In 1918, after a winter much like the past one, Ohio farmers had to import thousands of bushels of seed corn from other states.

"Though the situation is not as serious as in 1918," says Wallace E. Hunter, crop specialist, "it is the most serious since that time. There is a vast amount of poor seed corn in the northern half of the state. But by acting promptly and conducting more germination tests than they've tried since 1918, Ohio farmers can get enough good seed within the state."

Of more than 400 samples of seed corn tested by the Smith-Hughes men, in all parts of Ohio, the ability to germinate averaged, according to where the seed was stored, as follows:

For seed kept in the house, 88 per cent; on racks in sheds, 84.3; in ordinary cribs, 45.4; in the shock, 41.7; in sacks, baskets, or crates, 44.3 per cent.

Some communities, especially those in southern Ohio, showed higher percentages of germination. Tests varied considerably with the communities.

Crop specialists conclude that "the situation is serious enough to justify a great deal of time and effort in sowing and testing. Effort should be made to locate and test all lots of old corn and to have them available for seed."

EMERGENCY FUND NEAR DEPLETION, WARNS DIRECTOR

Columbus, March 12.—If requisitions upon it are allowed, the state emergency board may "go broke" before July 1, up to which date it has only $60,000.

Among requests before the board today for decision is one for $25,000 by Cyrus Locher, commerce director, and another for $15,000 to hire additional help for the state tax commission to superintend county reappraisals of real estate.

Director Locher wants the money for a survey of the telephone rate situation, suggested by Gov. Donahue. The appeal did not contain a budget, however, and the emergency board requested Locher to show them how the money will be spent.

Several small requests for money have been made upon it, the emergency board announced, and the funds may soon be depleted.

Alliance The Winner Thomas company Inc. has been incorporated at Columbus at $500. Robert Hoierman and Edward Ellsworth are named as incorporators.

COOLIDGE URGES PASSAGE

surgents are frankly suspicious of the President's resolution. By combining their strength and taking advantage of every Republican weakness they succeeded a few weeks ago in defeating the Mellon bill and writing a new tax bill and at the same time they wrote into the general tax bill the very provision the President is now insisting upon—permitting those who make returns to deduct 25 per cent. on the 1923 returns. It is due to pass within three or four weeks.

The coalition fears that once the administration has jammed through the 25 per cent. reduction on 1923 taxes by separate resolution the President would veto the general tax bill, which he has already threatened to do on numerous occasions, on the grounds that it strays too far from the rates laid down in the Mellon bill.

Republican leaders privately declared they intended to do nothing, pointing out that the tax payers will get the desired 25 per cent. reduction in a few weeks anyway and then will be permitted to make the reduction in their next quarterly payment instead of on Saturday.

AGED MAN BURNS TO DEATH, HOUSE RAZED BY FLAMES

Coshocton, March 12.—Nathaniel Taylor, 70, was burned to death and William Hall, 30, and wife were seriously burned early today when an accumulation of coal gas in the kitchen stove exploded in the Hall home at West Carlisle, 14 miles northwest of here.

The residence, a frame structure, was totally destroyed. Effort was being made this afternoon to recover from the ruins the body of Taylor, who was a cripple, due to rheumatism.

The explosion, it was stated, occurred while a fire was being started for breakfast. After getting his wife out of the house, Hall climbed in through a window and rescued their four-month-old daughter.

A fire, originating under similar circumstances, resulted in the death of three persons at West Carlisle, Nov. 2, last.

Where a Calico Strip Makes a Woman's Dress

Human nature is not more unchanging than the dress modes affecting the African native.

Let him who gibes at modern civilized woman's predilection for short skirts and bared arms and shoulders put this in his pipe and smoke it! In Africa the most moral people generally are those who wear the least clothing, says Major Raine in the London Mail.

Until quite recently the Kavirondo of Kenya colony wore no clothes at all. But at length the government flat went forth that this practice, or nonpractice, must cease. Then each woman obediently purchased herself a length of calico, that was worn shawlike, and that only when a government officer was in the vicinity.

But the people who do wear clothes are most conservative in their tastes. The cloths, or robes, must always be the same length, the same breadth and of the same material.

No underclothes are worn, so that an African husband is not called upon to meet very high lingerie bills contracted by his wife. As for stockings, silk or otherwise, tribal women do not wear them.

An African woman will take a dozen yards of calico, knot it over one shoulder and, with a few deft turns and twists, stand arrayed in the most chic and becoming costume. Not a pin or stitch is used to connect the whole, which is a work of art.

All over Africa there is an unlimited demand for calico, bleached and unbleached. Manchester generally supplies the former, which is called, on the east coast, Manhamoodi, or Bafan, and is worn by the better class of natives; poorer natives purchase a length occasionally to wear on gala occasions.

Although Japan and India are minor competitors, America has practically a monopoly of trade all through the dark continent in the latter. It is universally known as Amerikani.

Millions and millions of yards of Amerikani are imported annually into the African mandated areas and crown colonies.

Prehistoric Man in Asia 500,000 Years Ago

The evidence of prehistoric man in northern Asia so far obtained by the Roy Chapman Andrews expedition consists of a collection of flints which is now on its way to America.

"It has not been established how old they are, but from a report I have received from our paleontologist I am of the opinion that they are about half a million years old, or about the same age as the Pliocene Epoch. Mr. Andrews said in a recent visit to Columbus, O., according to the Ohio State Journal. "They are highly important to science, no matter how old they are, because they constitute the first evidence of the existence of prehistoric man in that portion of the world."

The expedition, conducted under the auspices of the American Museum of Natural History, Asia Magazine and a group of New York philanthropists, has produced more than ten thousand fish, reptiles and batrachians, some fifty cases of fossils and about two thousand mammals, including a fossilized skull of a baluchitherium, a sort of glorified rhinoceros, the largest mammal that ever roamed the earth.

Madrid Now Has a Curfew

Madrid has always been a city of night life. How many are those writers who have described nocturnal rambles through its cafes and taverns where the classes mingle!

Now, however, the curfew rings at three o'clock in the morning and the police have been instructed to see to it that no establishment remains open after that late—or early—hour. This is an economic measure, as the cost of lighting is too high in a land where coal is scarce.

At three o'clock, therefore, all the guitars in Madrid must cease their strumming and the adroit wielders of the poignard must sheathe their weapons for a few hours.—Le Figaro, Paris.

Electric "Sun" for Crops

Two crops of lettuce have been made to grow in the time only one grew before, by the use of electric lights as an artificial sun, according to the International Institute of Agriculture. Five electric bulbs of considerable power were turned on a bed of lettuce daily for six hours after dusk. The lettuce so treated had, after only twelve days, approximately two and a half times as many fresh leaves as other heads which had been planted at the same time but which had not been exposed to the electric light.

Cost of Royal Wedding

With a ceremony of seven days' duration and at a cost of $2,500,000, the Crown Prince Hirohito, prince regent of Japan, and Princess Nagako Kune, capped their royal romance in marriage. The marriage in many ways is the most significant in royal Japanese circles as this union was the first one in 2,500 years where a royal son married according to the dictates of his heart, it is said. The prince had to fight older suitors for her, because she is of another branch of the imperial house.

He Wanted to Know

"I was reading in the paper last night," said old Ork Oddways, "that a caterpillar will in a month eat about six hundred times his own weight."

"Looky here!" demanded Cap Joinson of Rumpus Ridge, who had entered the crossroads store in the midst of the statement. "Which one of my kids are you talking about?"

Brussels, March 12.—The old folks received a thrill here when M. Navremont took Eloise Dupont for his wife.

Olive Tablets are a purely vegetable compound mixed with olive oil; you will know them by their olive color.

Dr. Edwards spent years among patients afflicted with liver and bowel complaints and Olive Tablets are the immensely effective result. Take one or two nightly for a week. See how much better you feel and look. 15c and 30c.

Teaspoonful of Powder from Italy Placed in Shoes Relieves Man of Rheumatic Pain Almost at Once

When he went into the store to get this marvelous powder he was a cripple. Because of the terrible torturing effects of rheumatism he was crawling about on two canes. Mr. F. J. (name on request), of New York City, was the following letter: "It gives me pleasure to inform you that one box of your powder completely cured me in three days of rheumatism, from which I have suffered for some time."

The discoverer of this powder is Alessandro Volta, the well-known Italian physicist for whom the electric volt was named. He discovered a scientific combination of certain ingredients which he compounded into a fine powder. This powder, when shaken into the shoes or stockings, is intended to penetrate immediately through the myriad pores in the soles of the feet.

He has called the powder Volta. It has been so successful in the treatment of thousands of cases of rheumatism, many of which were considered hopeless, that the American distributors have authorized local druggists to dispense the powder with an unqualified guarantee that the entire cost of the first box will be refunded if you are not wonderfully relieved.

If you suffer from rheumatic pains, Sciatica, Lumbago, Gout or Neuralgia, you owe it to yourself to try this remarkable and revolutionary scientific treatment. It is absolutely harmless and will not cost one cent if you do not receive wonderful relief.

You can get a box of Volta, from such good druggists as: Leuse Drug Co., Floding's Pharmacy, Bolger & French's drug store, Bennett's drug store, Treas's drug store.

Intelligence Test Given To Determine Fine In Boozie Case

Cleveland, March 12.—A bootlegger's "intelligence test" was applied today by Rev. John S. Rutledge, justice of the peace in Rocky River, a suburb, when he fined Michael Daniels, of Cleveland, $2,000 and costs, following his conviction on the second offense of violating the state dry laws.

"I do this to keep intelligent men out of the business by killing the profits of illegal sales," Rutledge said in passing sentence.

"Men of higher mentality may expect sentences in accordance with their brains," the justice continued. "Those of low intelligence and ignorant of our laws and customs cannot well be expected to know better, but when men who have had the opportunities of our institutions deliberately flout the law, the limit penalties will be imposed."

"If men of intelligence and character violate the law, it cannot be hoped that men of less intelligence and standing shall obey it."

RADIO

By MERRILL C. ORSWELL

The following simple change in your radio circuit will:

1. Increase the selectivity.
2. Widen the wave length range.
3. Prevent interference from radiation.
4. Increase the receiving distance.
5. Make clearer reception possible.

With only a few changes in the connections of your present set you can receive through interference from nearby stations, and can reach wave lengths even as high as 800 meters. Your neighbor will not be annoyed by the radiation which your present receiver now causes, a slight increase in receiving distance will be noted and, what is better, the programs will come in much clearer than before.

Wind 15 turns of No. 22 D. S. C. wire directly over the winding of the main inductance, starting at the antenna end of the coil, and taking care that the turns are wound in the same direction as this coil. Connect one end to the binding post on the ground wire and the other end to the antenna binding post. Now disconnect the antenna side of the variable condenser from its present position and connect to the main switch arm which heretofore has been used to tune the antenna circuit in coarse steps. The variable condenser doing the tuning. This is all there is to be done. The rest of the circuit is left as is.

As the circuit is now, the main winding is now the secondary, and the 1 turn is a fixed primary, acting as an untuned antenna circuit, and in close inductive relation with the secondary. The switch and condenser are used exactly as before in tuning.—New York Globe.

Easy to Make Universal Joint Crystal Detector

This idea for a good detector is one which a fine adjustment may be made on any point of the crystal. The detector described here has a form of universal joint which allows such an adjustment.

It is mounted on a wood base, 6 by 8 by 1/2 inches. The materials required are: a base, two binding posts, a strip of spring brass 2 1/2 by 1/2 inches, a wooden pot-lid knob, three small lock washers, and several pieces from a structural toy set such as "flexo" or "meccano."

To make the universal joint first get a 2 1/2 inch strip, three small angle pieces, and several nuts and bolts from the toy set. These are assembled as shown in the diagram with lock washers under the nuts at the points B and C. A round-head wood screw with a lock washer under the head is used to hold the joint to the base at A. A plain washer is placed between the wood and the angle piece to make it turn easily. The knob is put on one end of the horizontal arm and the cat-whisker on the other. A wire is soldered near the middle of the arm and a pig-tail lead is made over to one binding post.

The screws at points A, B and C should be adjusted to give the desired stiffness of operation.

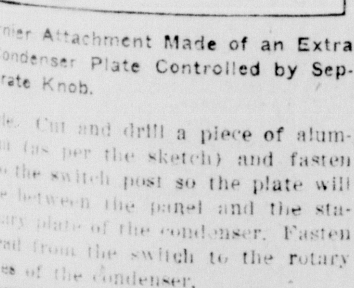

The crystal holder is shaped from the strip of spring brass. This is bent hair-pin shaped as shown and an angle piece is soldered on one side. A wood screw is used to fasten it solidly to the base. This holder is connected to the other binding post. The holder should be made so that it does all the way when the crystal is set in it.

If lock washers are not to be had, small stiff springs may be used in their place.

By careful workmanship this may be made a very neat and efficient instrument.

Verner Can Be Added to Variable Condenser

Here is a verner that can be added to the variable condenser of your set very easily. Drill a hole in the panel near the condenser and mount an old watch lever after breaking off the Verner Attachment Made of an Extra Condenser Plate Controlled by Separate Knob.

Note: Cut and drill a piece of aluminum (see the sketch) and fasten it to the switch post so the plate will slide between the panel and the stationary plate of the condenser. Fasten lead from the switch to the rotary plates of the condenser.

The Fan's Lament

By Robert S. Sutcliffe.

"This is terrible! Radio may broadcast congress speeches all over the nation. Many people of the United States are living in dread of radio's future."—News Item.

I've listened to the rag-time ditty, I've listened to the opera grand, a whole blame show, by radio, I've got from over the land. I've heard the talk of some babbling hawk who's lectured the poor old fan, but the end ain't yet, for we've got to get, the gab of the congressman.

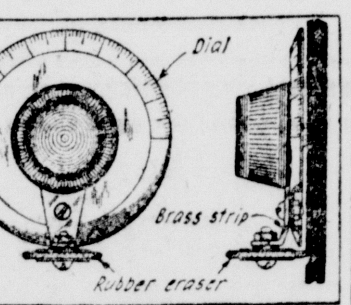

For years gone on at that there floor where hot air flows all day, the ones there sent, have been hell-bent to talk the time away. But though they roared, there was none there bored, and no guy seemed to care, cause each while chap would have a nap while he drank in the gab-filled air.

But the poor old fan that congressman has cornered now fer sure, when the guys orate he must take his fate, he has got to just endure. He must take the clack, for he can't talk back, and his good old time is past, but at his set he'll swear you bet, when speeches is broadcast.

Attachment for Vernier Can Be Had for Nickel

Any number of vernier attachments have been described in various radio periodicals, but most of them are either too complicated in construction or have a mechanical drawback. The vernier attachment described costs five cents and, as can be seen from the illustration, is simplicity itself so far as operation is concerned. The following parts are necessary for its construction: Two small brass bolts taken from a scrap, two nuts to fit these bolts, a drop of sheet brass and one five cent round eraser. The drawings are self explanatory. Fine adjustment is made by rolling the eraser with the thumb. This vernier does not require any hole in the panel and the knob and dial may be moved to another set without removing the attachment.—Radio News.

Sideview Movement of the Thumb on the Eraser Affords a Very Fine Adjustment of the Position of the Dial.

Should Know Plan of Balancing Neutrodyne

The practice of balancing out of a neutrodyne receiver consists of exciting the coupled receiver circuits with comparatively strong signal neutralizing capacities or neutrodynes, as they are called, to a point where that signal becomes inaudible. The fact that this adjustment of the neutralizing capacities is made toward a minimum or inaudible signal and can be accordingly made very exact, gives us proof that the method of neutralization is a true process of actual circuit capacity neutralization and not a method of preventing or reducing regeneration.

BUILD NEW KILNS IN LISBON PLANT

Several old kilns are being razed and interior dividing walls are likewise being torn down in the plant of R. Thomas & Sons, Lisbon, to provide room for the construction of a Harrop tunnel kiln, and one similar to that recently placed in operation at the No. 6 plant of the Homer Laughlin China Co., at Newell, W. Va.

The kiln will not be quite as long as the Laughlin kiln, but this single kiln will give the plant a capacity of 12 periodic kilns.

New floors have been built in several of the periodic kilns, and with the tunnel kiln in operation, the Lisbon plant will have a greater output of electric porcelain than any other similar plant in Ohio.

Don't Go to Mukden for Pleasure, Says Traveler

We reached Mukden in the evening. A great railway station of reinforced cement, with a luxurious hotel adjoining it, received us. The price of a room was 17 yen, or $8.50. A scandal! A man should never come to Mukden for pleasure. Furthermore, the Japanese are past masters at robbing European visitors with exquisite courtesy—although they do not truly welcome us, especially in these hot Japanese territories of theirs.

But for my seventeen yen I had fifty tiny Japanese waiters and waitresses continually and silently moving about me like mechanical toys, and anticipating with almost magic tact my slightest wish.

Chang Tso Lin, Chinese ruler of Manchuria, is a typical vicious gnomed though he is not fifty-five years old. He wears big spectacles and does not look like a typical Chinaman. In his marshal's uniform—which he always wears—he reminded me of General DeGoutte, the French commander in the Ruhr. I complimented him upon the appearance of his army, which looks like an efficient force.

I was conscious that the marshal was in ill humor. In fact, a conspiracy against him, headed by his own son, had been discovered at Mukden that very day. Two of the conspirators had been shot an hour or two before.

China is rushing headlong toward a new intervention of the powers. This would have come before, had it not been for the United States, whose friendship for China goes to fantastic extremes.—Arnaldo Cipolla in La Stampa (Turin).

Machines Aid Surgery

At the recent convention of the American College of Surgeons at Chicago, Dr. Fred H. Albee of New York, an authority on reconstructive surgery, in telling about machine-driven surgical instruments, said:

"One of the best points about automatic machine-driven surgical tools is that they reduce the shock of operation, because of the speed. This may be exemplified by the fact that a man when shot with a steel-jacketed, swiftly moving bullet, often does not realize he is shot until the blood begins to flow. But when a man is shot with a slowly moving soft-nosed bullet, he is knocked down, so violent is the shock.

"The same thing applies in operations when mallet and chisel are used. There the shock is vastly greater than when the cutting instruments work swiftly and surely, cutting the bones to a true size. Holes are cut to the right size and dowels of living bone are made to fit exactly."

Both men were repairing the tire on a Buick automobile and pumping air in the inner tube when a terrific explosion occurred. They were hit in the eyes and other parts of the body with the swift-flying pieces of the tire and tube. They suffered considerable pain for a time. What caused the explosion is a mystery.

Mr. and Mrs. D. E. Poto, of Alliance, will move to their new home in Homeworth April first.

After meals you want something more—a bit of sweet with a change of flavor. WRIGLEY'S is that "something more" and it's more than that! It is a great aid to your good health, as medical authorities say.

This is from a recent book on health:

David Bowman Dead.

The last number of the Gospel Messenger, published at Elkin, Ill., gives the following death notice:

David S. Bowman, born at North Georgetown, O., the son of George and Catherine Bowman, died Jan. 9, 1924, at Paltugas, Texas, aged 89 years, 2 months and 18 days. He married Rachel Crisswell Oct. 25, 1880. She died about a year later, March 5, 1883. He married Mary J. Shadle, who died June 15, 1912. Five children were born to this union. He is survived by one son, one daughter, three grandchildren and a great-grandchild.

He, with his family, moved to Larned, Kansas, in 1886, where he spent the remainder of his life, except the last ten years, which time he divided between his son and daughter. At an early age he united with the church of the Brethren and was elected deacon, in which office he served very acceptably up to the time of his death. He had a long Christian experience and contributed in a very liberal way to the upbuilding of a number of local churches, lending his energy and effort toward the uplift of the church and the community and its moral and educational forces.

The deceased was well known here, owning Placencia Lake and a large flour mill there. The lake was named and made a pleasure resort in 1885.

GRANDMA NEVER LET HER HAIR GET GRAY

When you darken your hair with Sage Tea and Sulphur, no one can tell, because its done so naturally, so evenly. Preparing this mixture, though, at home is messy and troublesome. At little cost you can buy at any drug store the ready-to-use preparation, improved by the addition of other ingredients called "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound." You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. By morning all gray hair disappears, and after another application or two, your hair becomes beautifully darkened, glossy and luxuriant.

Gray, faded hair, though no disgrace, is a sign of old age and as we all desire a youthful and attractive appearance, get busy at once with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound and look years younger.

31 RURAL SCHOOLS GET 3-MILL LEVY

Take Advantage Of Ruling Providing Help For Weak Schools.

Thirty-one out of the 43 rural school districts of Columbiana county have placed a special three-mill school levy on the tax duplicate and 12 school districts have not taken advantage of this provision of law to provide funds for school purposes.

Late last week, Attorney General C. C. Crabbe advised Vernon M. Riegel, state director of education, of a decision just handed down by the Ohio supreme court which is in aid to a movement to keep weak schools open during the entire school term of 32 weeks.

The certifying of the three mills at this time, according to the attorney general, has the same effect as if it had been placed on the duplicate last December, and that one-half of the same, or one and one-half mills, may therefore be issued to pay the operating expenses of the schools for the remainder of the present school year. Although this money will not actually be collected in June, the director of education may advance to those districts complying, the part to which they are entitled from the state.

The 12 school districts in this county that have not taken advantage of this provision of law are: Negley school district; Unity No. 2; Unity No. 6; Madison No. 1; Washington township school district; Franklin township school district; Summitville school district; Kensington school district; Knox township school district; West township school district; East Rochester school district.

Attorney General Crabbe has also pointed out, according to information received in this county from his office, that the contracts with the teachers are binding obligations and that boards of education will be liable when able to pay, even though the schools should be closed.

DEMAND FOR HOMES GREAT IN LISBON

Lisbon, March 12.—"The demand for homes in Lisbon is greater today than ever, and this is going to result in considerable building activity," declared John H. Hinchliffe, of the Hinchliffe Real Estate and Mortgage Co., Tuesday night.

"The better class of residence properties are in heavy demand, and it is exceedingly hard to obtain a house in Lisbon today, unless through sale. What we have to do in Lisbon now is to build homes for working people and these folks want houses possessing modern conveniences. People are not satisfied with the houses they occupied even as late as 10 and 15 years ago. The whole situation revolves around the one word, modernism."

Homes are planned for Lisbon this coming spring and summer that will vary in cost from $5,000 to $30,000. The old Lisbon baseball park will be built up solid before the end of the summer season, while other building is proposed on the Salem-Lisbon road this spring.

OUCH! BACKACHE! RUB LUMBAGO AWAY

When your back is sore and lame or lumbago, sciatica or rheumatism has you stiffened up, don't suffer! Get a 35 cent bottle of old honest St. Jacobs Oil at any drug store, pour a little in your hand and rub it right on your aching back, and the soreness and lameness is gone.

In use for 65 years, this soothing, penetrating oil takes the pain right out, and ends the misery. It is absolutely harmless and doesn't burn the skin.

Baker Is On Record For Nations League

Cleveland, March 12.—Newton D. Baker, former secretary of war and unopposed candidate for delegate to the Democratic National convention, was on record today for a straight out declaration in the platform for the United States to take "her place in the family of nations under the league."

Baker, speaking before the Women's City club last night, highly praised the work done by the league of nations, saying it "was the only force in the world which is working to rebuild the shattered foundations of the world."

For Creaky Joints

Just rub on the new application called Joint-Ease if you want to know what real joint pain is.

It's for stiff, swollen or pain-tortured joints whether caused by rheumatism or not.

A few seconds' rubbing and it soaks right in through skin and flesh right down to ligament and bone.

It oils up and lubricates the joints, subdues the inflammation and reduces the swelling. Joint-Ease is the one great remedy for all joint troubles and the J. H. Leese Drug Co., Floding's drug store, Bolger & French and other live druggists are dispensing it daily—a tube for 60 cents.

"Intellectuals" Think Dirt Is Mark of Genius

The evolution of the "intellectual genius" can best be studied at close range in Greenwich Village, New York city, the congregating point for the sex-stuff writers and their friends.

In one of the cross streets off the lower end of Washington square is a "coffee house" equipped with low divans covered with pieces of ragged old carpet, and chairs and benches cut down to bring their users close to the floor. The lighting is subdued, the air heavy with cigarette smoke, and an open fireplace cheats in warmth, for its log is painted red, and the flame an effect in color from a concealed electric bulb.

"They come in here, many of them," remarked the proprietor, who has kept at close grips with his sense of humor, "and I have often reviled at their dirty collars, unwashed necks, long, streaky hair and generally untidy appearance. But it is not because of the scarcity of soap or the lack of baths. To be clean, shiftless and conspicuous through that pose is as studied a part as taken by the Broadway actor who makes up for a character in a play."

Johnson, Swift and others of their period set a precedent for literary men by arraying themselves in simple clothing which they wore out. But they kept clean. They did not carry their contempt of the mob to the extent of going about unwashed. Down here in the village the imitators of the Mid-Victorian and earlier intellectual giants decided that if they would go about in dirty linen and clothing they might attract attention.—Philadelphia Public Ledger.

Member of Lily Family Grows in Arizona Desert

Arizona deserts have their own flowers. In places the supply is abundant, the growth large, the flowers when in bloom of marked beauty, the big yucca and the sotol, both members of the lily family, showing beautiful bloom on tall and stately stalks.

One of the interesting desert growths is the water cactus, so named because of its great stalk, from five to ten feet high and as large in circumference as a barrel. It has a heavy pulpy covering from which it is possible to squeeze goodly amounts of water, and Indians and travelers are quick to turn to the cactus when water supplies are short.—Columbus Dispatch.

Business Is Business

A recently printed story about a stenographer who said she didn't care to work any longer for a boss who was so stupid as not to notice that she was dressed for the matinee, reminded us of an anecdote of Henry Irving and Jessie Millward. Miss Millward appeared at rehearsal one day in a new and dainty dress. Irving noticed it. "Very pretty frock—very pretty indeed," he said. "What is it for?"

"I'm going to John a luncheon party as soon as rehearsal is over," she answered proudly.

"Go at once, my dear; go at once," was the disconcerting reply. "Don't let the rehearsal detain you. But tomorrow—come in your working clothes tomorrow—with your mind full of work!"—Boston Transcript.

Willing to Be Tempted

Little Alec's parents are confident he is going to grow up to be a great statesman. They are proudly telling of a little scene one of them overheard the other day.

Alec and his little sister were playing. Their mother had given them apples. Alec had eaten his; little Cynthia was saving hers for a while.

"Let's play Adam and Eve," Alec suggested to her.

"How do you play it?" asked Cynthia.

"You tempt me to eat your apple, and I give way," he explained.—Denver Times.

Hut of Beer Bottles

Far out on the Mojave desert, between Searchlight and Silver City, Cal., is a house that revives memories of days gone by. It is constructed to a great extent of beer bottles, the Los Angeles Times relates.

Light ones and dark ones, many of them bearing labels of former well-known brewers, are pressed into the walls of the adobe structure. Twenty layers of bottles line each wall, making a total of some three hundred dozen bottles that attest the mighty thirst of the unknown "desert rat" who constructed the unique habitation.

His Question

"Well, suzz!" remarked Mrs. Johnson, in the midst of her reading, "I never knowed that before!"

"Never knowed what?" asked Gap Johnson of Rumpus Ridge.

"Why, it says here in the paper: 'Beans and other small objects can be removed from a child's nose by rubbing red pepper on his upper lip.'"

"Hain't he got to poke some beans up his nose first?"

Passing the Buck

The new cook gave some pork chops to a relative who called while the lady of the house was out paying a few calls.

"The missus will miss them," warned the parlor maid.

"Oh, I'll blame that on the cat," "We have no cat."

"Then be a good girl," urged the new cook earnestly, "and let the canary out of its cage."

PROSPEROUS YEAR, BANKER ASSURES

Business Healthy, Federal Reserve Head Informs Drygoods Men.

Columbus, March 12.—"Business really is healthy now," declared James B. Anderson, Fourth Federal Reserve Bank, Cleveland, addressing approximately 500 members attending the ninth annual convention of the Ohio Retail Drygoods association in session here today. The convention will end Thursday.

"Everything is set for substantial prosperity in 1934," Anderson said. He urged his audience to "have no fear of unsettled business conditions."

Advising that close watch be kept on production costs, Anderson suggested that dry goods men observe conditions in lines of business activity other than their own.

As being indicative of prosperous conditions, he directed attention to the facts that employment is good, freight-loading is regular, wages are close to the war-time peak, steel mills are operating at near-capacity, the automobile industry experienced a record year, and the building trades have just passed through one of their best years.

"A merchant's buying policy should be determined by knowledge of the 'capacity to sell,' obtained through careful investigation of local conditions," said William R. Zollinger, Canton, addressing the convention.

Wheat In Elevators Less Than In 1923

Washington, March 12.—The crop reporting board of the department of agriculture today estimated that 99,596,000 bushels of wheat were held in elevators and interior mills of the country, on March 1, 1934, as compared with 92,538,000 on March 1, 1923, and 75,971,000 on March 1, 1922.

Town's Water Tank Was Ruined by Woodpeckers

Woodpeckers have caused a sensation in Sully, Ia.

First they ruined the town water tank. That threw a perplexing problem on the city administration. Besides that they have blasted the theory of birdologists that a woodpecker pecks for worms. He pecks for the sake of pecking.

Back in 1922 the birds drilled so many holes in the water tank that the insulation against freezing was ruined. Workmen put up the holes and painted over the putty.

But the woodpecker is a wise bird and perseverance is one of his main outstanding qualities. In the summer of 1923 they pecked all the putty out of the holes. The woodpecker likes his pecking soft.

When the recent cold spell came on the town water supply suddenly gave out.

The city engineer scratched his head and declared he was sure the tank was full of water, then investigated. He found the tank full of ice and his putty all pecked away.

That threw the situation onto the political brows of the city councilmen. Mayor Fred Andreas has announced that the present plan is to tear the plant down and put up a "peck-proof" one.

It will be up to the scientists to explain about the birds preferring nice, soft putty to peck in rather than wood.—Kansas City Star.

PASTOR, FORMER LEADER OF KLAN, SKIPS HIS BOND

New Cumberland, W. Va., March 12.—Judge J. J. Coniff today ordered the $1,000 bond of Rev. E. V. Huffer, pastor of the Newell (W. Va.) Christian church and former Ku Klux Klan Klacke in Hancock and Brooke counties, forfeited and declared him a fugitive from justice when he failed to appear in court to answer to two Hancock county indictments alleging he obtained money under false pretenses.

The charges against Huffer, contained in five counts in the two bills, followed his alleged use of a bogus teacher's certificate to obtain appointment as principal of the Newell High school in 1922.

Prosecuting Attorney W. W. Ingram has filed capias proceedings against Huffer.

LENROOT RESIGNS AS PROBE LEADER

Washington, March 12.—Senator Irvin L. Lenroot, Republican, Wisconsin, resigned as chairman of the Senate public lands committee, which for several months has been conducting an investigation of the naval oil leases.

Lenroot sent his resignation from Southern Pines, N. C., where he went a week ago to recuperate, he said, from nervous exhaustion brought about by his labors in the oil investigation. His resignation as chairman of the investigating committee carried with it his resignation as a member of the committee.

Senator Ladd, Republican, of North Dakota, automatically succeeds the Wisconsin Senator as chairman.

Is Capital Wettest City In The Nation?

Washington, March 12.—President Coolidge has requested Prohibition Commissioner Haines for an official report on charges that "Washington is the wettest city in the country." It was learned at the White House today.

The charges were made in New York yesterday by Rear Admiral C. P. Punnett, commandant of Brooklyn navy yard, testifying in a police hearing.

Taxicab Driver Proves Chivalry Is Not Dead

"Don't offer me money, lady—it's so long since I have been a hero," said a taxicab driver, proving thereby that chivalry has not died.

The girl was dressed to impress a possible employer—that is, in her best. She had been job-hunting, and a sudden rainstorm left her marooned in an office building on a Fifth avenue corner. Taxicabs of all colors, all of them comfortably filled, were skidding past, and for half an hour the girl watched them greedily. Finally an empty cab came along. She dashed for it and jumped in without a word of warning, says the New York Sun and Globe.

"Get up, get up, miss," said the driver, beginning to look frightened. "I've gotta take this cab around to the garage."

"I can't get up," said the girl.

"You'll hafta get up," said the driver sternly. "I can't stay here all night—that cop is telling me to move on now."

"Now, man to man," said the girl, looking at him out of black-fringed Irish eyes, "do you want me to get this hot vet?"

He looked at the eyes and then at the hat. It was a pink silk hat, and, like the clouds, it had a silver lining.

"No, miss, I don't," he answered.

"Tell you what I can do—I'll take you as far as I'm going and get you another cab there."

Without even throwing the meter he drove off and did not swerve until they reached the taxi barn.

ROAD HEARINGS SET FOR FRIDAY

All arrangements for the two road hearings which will be held in Common Pleas Court No. 2 Friday were completed today.

Division Engineer W. C. Fawcett, of the State Highway Department, arrived in Lisbon Tuesday and will very likely remain in this county until after the hearing. It was not been announced whether Mr. Fawcett will represent the department at the hearing.

The morning session will be continued to the presentation of arguments for a re-routing of the Wells-Salisville inter-county highway in Yellow Creek township.

The afternoon session will be on the East Liverpool-Youngstown road in St. Clair township and whether the route will be allowed to remain as at present designated, the Srucevale road, or changed to be routed over the Bell School road.

Arguments at both hearings will be those favorable to either route.

DEADLY MENACE

A noted physician gave this advice to his patients: "Never neglect the slightest cold." The cold germ is a deadly menace to human life. Pneumonia, influenza, Pleurisy and other serious sicknesses may result from a common cold. Rid the system of the injurious poisons that clog the bowels and intestines by taking a hot cupful of Bulgarian Blood Tea. Hot medicinal tea increases the circulation stimulates the liver, flushes the bowels and helps to break up a cold quickly. Bulgarian Herb Tea is sold by druggists everywhere.

New Gold Strikes in Madagascar and Alaska

Alaska a few days ago announced a new gold strike and hardly had that find been made public before similar news came from a far more distant section of the globe, the town of Ankilabaha in the Antsavelo river region of Madagascar. High hopes have been aroused by the latest discovery, as an extremely rich vein was uncovered in that vicinity twenty-five years ago.

Since that time extensive mining operations have been carried on, principally by a private company of Lyons, France, under concession from the government of Madagascar. French authority, after its experiences in the earlier gold rush, does not encourage the individual prospector who descends on a new gold field with little else than his tent and pick and is apt to prove an ungovernable, erratic character, but leans rather to favoring the chartered company. Big fortunes were made in Madagascar's earlier gold rushes, but gradually the vein along the Mozambique coast to the west became worked out and little had been heard of it until the word of the recent strike, says the New York Times.

The prevalence of rich ore in Madagascar has made mining one of its chief activities. In addition to gold there are valuable deposits of rubies and leyls, and veins of mica, graphite and uranium—the latter producing radium—are to be found, together with many other ores. Along the seaboard pearl diving has brought in considerable profits.

A long distance telephone line has been established between the Mexican cities of Chihuahua and Ciudad Juarez that eventually will connect with lines in the United States.

Roosevelt Occupies Unique Position In Office Father Held

Washington, March 12.—Theodore Roosevelt, occupying the same post that his father held a quarter of a century ago, stood at the head of the United States navy today, while President Coolidge poured over the records of a half dozen men in an effort to find a successor to Edwin Denby, resigned.

The situation is unique in history. Denby is gone, and Roosevelt himself is under fire. Democratic senators who were responsible for the ousting of Denby allowed it to become known today they will no longer reserve their fire on his assistant. They are demanding that Coolidge hasten the selection of a naval head.

Dodge 4-Passenger Coupe Is Appealing

To meet a distinct need for a car of convenient size that would comfortably seat four people Dodge Brothers designed and produced their new four-passenger coupe. Orders taken have already reached the point where they are taxing the facilities of the factory.

The body of the coupe, which is of composite construction, is one of the finest examples of coach builders' art. The seating arrangement is staggered, with a seat of folding design at the side of the driver. One feature is found in the fact that the driver sits directly behind the steering wheel—not at an angle. Four passengers can be seated with the utmost comfort. Also, the doors are extra wide, allowing ease of movement in getting in and out.

For painting lines on smooth surfaced highways a Michigan man has mounted a felt covered wheel on one side of an automobile, paint being sprayed on the wheel as it rolls along.
